Difficult Task Set Before the Exposition Vice Presidents.

SORTING THE TRANSMISSISSIPPI BEAUTIES

Minnesota. Nebraska. Wyoming, Colorado and Utah All Sending on Photographs of Lovely Young Women.

The "beauty contest" instituted by the exposition management for the purpose of securing photographs from which to make a picture showing the condensed leveliness of the women of the transmississippi region is causing a furore of excitement among the many thousands of beautiful Chairman Lindsey of the executive committee of the exposition to the vice presiand send to the exposition management a thor of a very valuable book about it. cabinet photograph of each, showing a full profile view of the head and choulders of the subject, these pictures to be used in making a composite picture to form the model for one side of the souvenir medal

Different methods have been adopted in different states for making the selection. In nearly every case the vice was issued and a meeting held at the Compresident avoids the responsibility of choos-

As there are so many beautiful young women in our state, all apparently deserving of the 'honor to be conferred, the task of selecting the two most beautiful will indeed be the most difficult that has fallen to my lot, and I have therefore decided to call to my assistance a committee of the generous editors of the state, whose names are as follows: J. M. Quinn, Quinn's Review; Sam Gordon, Yellowstone Journal; E. L. Boardman, Carbon County Sentinel; P. A. Jullian, Butte Miner; C. H. Edwards, Montana Fruit Grower; A. K. Yerkes, Bozeman Chronicle; F. E., Foote, Dillon Tribune; S. M. Moore, Herald-Journal; G. W. Sikes, Helena Independent; R. E., Fisk, Helena Herald, and C. H. Eggleston of the Anaconda Standard, The above named committee will convene in the parlors of the Helena hotel on Saturday, January 15, at 2 p. m. PEAVEY PICKS FIVE EXPERTS. Vice President Frank H. Peavey of Minnesota has chiffed the responsibility imposed on him by Manager Lindsey. In a letter just received from him is the following para-

Regarding the medal matter I have appointed a committee on selection of five prominent gentlemen considered to be experts on beauty, and they have organized peris on beauty, and they have organized and will conduct an active campaign, and no doubt the competition for the selection from this state will be strong and spirited. I understand you have received the selections from some of the states, Will you please advise me how many, and what have been the various modes of making the selections, so far as you know. If you selections, so far as you know. If you could send the photographs here for inspection, I would appreciate it, as it would give us a cliance to make a comparison before we everlastingly commit ourselves. You know, we think we have the most beautiful women in the world in Minnesota, but we are anxious to make sure,

NEBRASKA MAIDENS COME FORWARD. Judge William Neville of North Platte vice president of the exposition for Nebraska. is having troubles of his own in making the selection of the two handsomest women in Nebraska. Several days ago the judge requested that all the handsome women in the state send him their photographs, so that might select the two handsomest as Ne braska's contribution to the composite medal. This request was published in the news-papers and since that time the judge's mail has swelled until it has reached enormous Every mail into North Platte contains photographs from all parts of the state addressed to the vice president, but the judge is greatly troubled by the fact that the senders seem to have no regard whatever for the conditions which must be complied with. It was expressly stated in every mention of the matter that the pictures must be profile views of the head and shoulders of the subject. This rule was made because the head which is to be engraved on the medal is to be a profile of a woman and a composite profile picture cannot be made by using any other than profilviews of all the subjects. Regardless condition, the pictures received by Judge Neville are of every kind and condi-tion. Some are profile pictures, but the majority are front views of various degrees, while some are three-quarter length, others show the full figure and others show nothing

The judge has appealed to the newspapers to proclaim to the thousands of beautiful women in Nebraska that nothing but full profile pictures can be considered and those who have no pictures must get them and send them to North Platte at once if they want to be considered in the competition

THREE SEPARATE PLANS. In Wyoming the work of making the selec tion has been parceled out among the boards of commissioners of the several counties, and each board will select the two most beau-tiful and these will be sent to the vice presiwhose task will thus be made easier Colorado is considering the advisability of choosing its beauties from the county representatives who participated in the festival of mountain and plain last fall, and the suggestion has been made in Utah that a selec-tion might be made from the models of loveliness who participated in the jubilee celebration. Vice President Shurtliff of Utah, who is in the city, says he has hesitated somewhat about embarking in the mat-ter, as he has been rather careful about walking boldly into trouble, but he says he will undertake the task, unless he can find some bolder man who will relieve him of the responsibility.

Her Majesty Greets Her Retinue and Talks About Dress. A jolly party met at Miss Mildred Steph enson's residence last evening. Queen Polaris-elect (Miss Stephenson) and her merry maids of honer were only holding a consultation with the prime minister, James H. Love. The principal event was the discussion of plans for the reception at the Hotel Millard on the afternoon of Tuesday, January 18, at which time the queen and all of the maids of honor, both from city and country, will hold a reception for their friends. Matters concerning dress were dis-cussed and decided on, the program for the first and second days was carefully gone over and after a sociable lunch the party broke up and all went home to think and Local Woodmen Extend the Glad Hand to Visiting Head Officers.

EVERY CAMP IN THE CITY REPRESENTED

Five Teams Attend in Full Uniform and a Competitive Drill Takes Place_Speeches Delivered by Several Gentlemen.

The glad hand was last night extended in royal fashion to the visiting head officers of the Modern Woodmen of America by their Omaha brethren. The felicitous occasion took place in Myrtle hall and that big hall held the biggest assemblage of Woodmen that has gathered together in this city for a long time. Every camp in this city was represented and there were big delegations from Council Bluffs and South Omaha. The stage was especially decorated with

The Working Masses

As a liberal supply store to the working masses the "Guarantee" stands defiantly above all other clothing houses in Omaha.

While other stores study fashion plates, we study practical results of the plain and non-fashionable. We study practical and economical clothes making when others study store beautifying

The result had a tendency to drift the working classes here, and made us in return more cager to benefit and appreciate.

A workingman is sure to find here a larger selection, better made the markets for every advantage when big stores are consulting the wishes of the aristocratic trade.

To illustrate, let us mention working pants as an example. Two or three kinds usually form a selection in most stores. You will find 60e -75e -85e -90e -95e -$1.00 -$1.10 -$1.15 -$1.25 -$1.35 -$1.40-$1.50_$1.60 _$1.75_$1.90-$2.00_$2.10_$2.25-$2.35-2.50-and a half to a

And so of other things of interest to wage-carners. Dress clothes, working clothes, shoes, gloves, shirts, underwear and other things

As we remarked. The wants of the working masses are studied eagerly here, and but a side issue in aristocratic stores. That is the reason why workingmen drift here.
